GOOD PRICES FOR STRAWBERRIES

Monett Strawberries Net $2.34 Per Crate This Season

Wm. Smerdon, manager of the Southwest Missouri Fruit Growers Union, reports that sales of strawberries for the Monett Fruit Growers Association averaged $2.34 cents per crate and the money is all in the bank.

This is considered a high average, as half or more of the berries were of the Warfield variety, which sold from 15 to 50 cents less per crate than Aromas.

He advises that berry growers plant at least one acre each next year and thinks there will be big money to growers who plant on their best berry land and take special care of them.

Eastern and Northern buyers say that berries are not likely to be as cheap in the future as they have been in the past.

A number of growers have averaged one hundred and more crates of Aromas to the acre on good timber soil this year. This has been exceeded by some especially good patches of Warfields.

Berries are one of the most profitable crops our farmers can raise if given the proper attention and care in selecting a productive strain of plants, as well as in cultivation.
